

COVER THE COAST

Active Coast are leading 10 circular walks exploring the full East Yorkshire coast in manageable sections. The walks take in the East Riding's key coastal villages, towns, key hubs, beaches, countryside and spectacular locations. Walks range from 5 to 12 miles. Bring food, water, waterproofs and wear suitable footwear.

FRIDAY 2 FEBRUARY

Humber Bridge and Barton Upon Humber

8 miles

Starting from the TIC at the Humber Bridge Country Park a walk over the bridge will take us in to Barton upon Humber. Enjoy the great views of Hull across the river as we wander round the Water's Edge Country Park, before our second bridge crossing to return to the East Riding.

FRIDAY 2 MARCH

Easington River and Sea

7 miles

Today's walk takes us south of Easington before walking along the edge of the Humber. Soon we head north and across to the North Sea. The history of this part of the Holderness coastline is amazing with lots to see and learn.

FRIDAY 6 APRIL

Paull and Hedon

8 miles

Enjoy the amazing views at the start of the walk along the Humber towards the bridge and our previous walk, before heading along the picturesque Burstwick River into Hedon, and returning to Paull via the Fort Paull Battery.

FRIDAY 11 MAY

Withernsea Paddle

9 miles

The rise of Withernsea was rapid during the era of Victorian seaside towns with the establishment of the railway. Enjoy this long walk which could lead to some interesting fossils finds on the beach.

FRIDAY 1 JUNE

Aldbrough by the Gas Works Wall

8 miles

The Holderness coastline has been heavily affected by coastal erosion. Since the roman era the coastline has reduced by 12 miles, and even 3 miles since the Doomsday book in 1086. Many villages in the area have been lost to Davy Jones.

FRIDAY 6 JULY

Mappleton to Hornsea

8.5 miles

Mappleton is a prime location for fossil hunters. A forage along the beach may help discover a creature that was walking the coastline or swimming in the sea millions of years ago.

FRIDAY 3 AUGUST

Skipsea to Barmston

7.5 miles

The area has an ancient history with people established here as long as 10,000 years ago. Neolithic tribes have been known to live in the marshy areas around Barmston and Skipsea in Cranog type houses. Vikings ruled for many years; as we walk look out for the Viking burial ground and the tree circle monument.

FRIDAY 7 SEPTEMBER

Bridlington South Cliff to Barmston

9.5 miles

The walk takes in the medieval villages of Hilderthorpe, Wilsthorpe, Hartburn and Auburn. Explore a landscape that has been moulded by the erosion of ice and sea.

FRIDAY 5 OCTOBER

Sewerby to Flamborough

11.5 miles

Today's walk heads from Sewerby Hall along the Headland Way, crossing Danes Dyke which was once believed to be built by the Vikings. It is now thought they are responsible for its restoration, actually being built thousands of years before by Neolithic settlers. The walk takes in amazing scenery of the sea coast and cliffs of Flamborough, famous for sea birds. Keep a look out to spot birds on their autumn migration.

FRIDAY 2 NOVEMBER

Bempton to Hunmanby

12 miles

The last walk of the year continues along the Headlands Way, covering the last steps of the East Yorkshire coast and briefly crossing into North Yorkshire. Enjoy spectacular scenery around Bempton, Speeton, Reighton and Hunmanby, with stunning views across to Filey and the Brigg.

All walks start at 10am.
Booking essential. For further route details, timings and meeting points:
